

FRIDAY LETTER JULY 26, 2019

1. Sandy Shores Well.

Warren Perkins will be on the 9:25 boat so he will probably be a little late. He had sent me an email with a rough draft of what we are up against; I have made copies for everyone so you will have an idea of what he will present to us.

2. Memorial bench.

The last part of Steve's bench, the plaque, showed up this week now we can finish that project.

3. Test.

This last Tuesday I took and passed the test to be certified to operate the sandy shores filtration plant when it comes online. W, T, P, O 1 certification, water treatment plant operator 1.

4. Insurance audit.

Every few years we get audited by our insurance company the last one was 2013; it helps determine whether we have the right coverage and probably another way for them to increase our premiums. Angie and I have completed the audit form and have turned it in.

5. Dockton Water weed eater.

Dockton water owns a weed eater that I use every year to weed eat around fire hydrants', valve markers and customer meters that don't keep their Meters clear of vegetation. The carburetor had gone bad so I ordered a carb package from Amazon for $ 25.00 that consisted of course the carb plus new fuel lines, fuel filter, spark plug, air filter and gaskets. I changed everything out and it is running like new.
